TO CONSUMERS

A message from the Automotive Industries Association of Canada

Making your own choice of Automotive Service Professional
for regular servicing
and maintenance
does not mean compromising your vehicle warranty.

Talk to your chosen Automotive Service
Professional to ensure that the maintenance
schedule for your vehicle is followed, and that warranty repairs are undertaken promptly by the appropriate repair facility.

Here are some things you should know:

- In each province, there are Automotive Service Professionals who are qualified to service any vehicle make and model.
- Your chosen Automotive Service Professional can service your vehicle for regular maintenance.
- To maintain the integrity of your vehicle warranty, follow its terms and properly document the maintenance schedule outlined in your owner's manual or your extended warranty coverage contract. For example, particular attention should be made to ensure that manufacturer recommended fluids are used and accurately documented in your record of service.
